

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

WE ARE AUTHORIZED TO ANNOUNCE JUDGE BEN NEWTON
a candidate for Judge of the Ohio County Court, subject to the will of the Democratic party. Election August, 1886.

ALFRED C. PHILLIPS
a candidate for Judge of the Ohio County Court, subject to the will of the Democratic party. Election August, 1886.

REEVES VESUS RODES.

Considerable interest was aroused in the contest for the nomination for Circuit Judge in our neighboring district. The contest waxed warm, and the friends of the two candidates, Robert Rodes, of Bowling Green, and W. L. Reeves, of Todd, were unfiring in their labors for their favorite. In such a contest it was not natural that some bitterness of feeling should be aroused, but nothing should have been done which would expose the successful party to charges of trickery and unfair dealing.

If we understand the facts, Warren and Simpson counties with a total of 20 votes had instructed for Rodes, and Todd and Logan with 18 votes for Reeves. There were two delegations from Butler county, and the vote of this county decided the matter. In the preliminary organization the Reeves delegation from Butler were recognized and admitted, and a Reeves temporary organization was effected, a committee on credentials consisting of three Reeves and two Rodes men was appointed, and we have a majority and a minority report, one for admitting the Reeves delegation from Butler and the other for admitting the Rodes delegates.

Now comes the tug of war. To win, the Reeves party must adopt the majority report, and this was done by the vote of the Reeves delegation from Butler county, whose seats were contested, aided by Todd and Logan counties.

Is it Democratic usage, is it parliamentary law for a party claiming the right as a representative in a deliberative body to vote upon that question when his right is contested?
We do not claim to be infallible authority on the question, but we venture the assertion that it was in violation of all rules governing deliberative bodies. The Reeves chairman permitted the Reeves delegation from Butler county to vote themselves in, and they did it.

The friends of Rodes made, as we conceive, a fair proposition to refer the matter to a primary election in Butler county, which was rejected.
It was openly charged in the convention that unfair practices had been resorted to by the chairman of the Butler county committee, a Reeves man, that the convention was called for 1 o'clock p. m., and the Reeves men secretly notified to be on hand at 12 noon, when the convention was called to order and a Reeves delegation appointed when the sentiment of the county and Democrats in Morgantown on that day was largely for Rodes. Whether this was true or not we don't know, but in the account we read of the convention we failed to see that he denied it.

We have no interest in this matter other than to see justice done. We are "Old Fogy" enough to want the will of the people fairly expressed to be carried out. From all we can learn, we do not believe it has been done in this case. If there is no authority to govern in cases of this kind, the State committee ought to settle the matter so that in future such wrangles should be avoided.

We do not know what Mr. Rodes wishes, we have no advice to give him; he and his friends must settle this matter. We would rather be defeated than to be victorious, when that victory was obtained by trickery.

PREMATURE CONVENTIONS.

We see they have had a convention in the Bowling Green Judicial District to nominate a candidate for Circuit Judge, and the result is great dissatisfaction.

It seems to us to be not only ridiculous and foolish, but wrong to hold a convention in a judicial district at a time prior to the meeting of the Legislature, which is required by law to re-organize all the districts in the State.

The district in which this convention has been held may be changed, and the county in which the nominees live may be thrown out of the district or other counties may be added to it that would thus have no vote or say as to who should be their candidate, but when the time comes when candidates are usually nominated, they are told "we have already nominated the candidate in this district and you must vote for him or you are no Democrat."

In order to prevent this, the man who has been nominated goes to Frankfort and spends the winter as a lobbyist in trying to prevent the district from being changed, and thus greatly embarrasses that body and perhaps prevents them from doing justice to other districts. We hope the Legislature will put its foot on all such juggling and re-district the State as it is its duty to do, and pay no regard at all to the fact that any political party has held a convention in any district.

There is no sense or justice in holding conventions or primary elections at an early date. A great many voters do not want to make up their minds in the fall or winter, or even in early spring as to who they will vote for in August, and they do not want to attend political meetings and hear speeches at that time of the year, nor do they wish to be button-holed and taken to one side by candidates and asked to pledge themselves six or eight months before the election. Let candidates do as they have done in the good old times, announce themselves in the spring of the year when the red-bud and dogwood are in bloom, when the fish begin to bite, and the horses squeal around with their fancy bridles on, and the grass is springing up fresh and green, and everybody is in a gay, good humor, and let them have a canvass of two months, then a convention or primary election and rule all off but one man for each office, and let them have a short, sharp, incisive canvass of a month, six weeks or two months at most, to fight the candidates of the opposite party. No county convention or primary election ought to be held before the month of May. This is the sentiment of the Democrats of the county, and we have a good committee and are satisfied that they will respect this sentiment of the people.

We write this in the interest of no prospective candidate. We want all the Democrats in the county to have a chance to deliberately make up their minds, and to select the best men for the various offices and then elect them. The political parties in Ohio county are too equally balanced for the Democrats to make any mistakes. Let everything be fair and done deliberately and openly; let the people have time to consider, to hear and determine; then, may the best men win, is the wish of the HERALD and the Democrats of the county.

A STRANGE COINCIDENCE.

In the last issue of the HERALD there was an interview between us and a prominent citizen of this town in regard to the soldiers' reunion at Owensboro. Friday following the Leitchfield Sunbeam had an interview with Mr. Dan O'Reilly, of that place, who gave the same description, word for word, as our man did. It is a little strange that two people could go to as large a gathering as that and both receive exactly the same impression and impart it in exactly the same language. 'Tis strange but true.

The political situation in Ohio is this: The Senate will have a Democratic majority of 3, the House a Republican majority of 6. Republican majority on joint ballot 3. The Democrats having a majority in the Senate, the Republicans are trying to count out several so as to get control of the legislature. Hamilton county gave Hoody 646 plurality and elected all the county tickets excepting Commissioner.

GENERAL GEORGE B. McCLELLAND, one of the ablest Federal Generals in the late war, and Democratic candidate for President in 1864, died quite suddenly at his home in New Jersey, last Thursday. He was about fifty-nine years old.

FERDINAND WARD, of the firm of Grant & Ward, New York City, has been tried, convicted and sentenced to Sing Sing for ten years.

County Democratic Committee.

Pursuant to a call issued some time ago, the County Democratic Committee met here Monday evening. A quorum being present, they proceeded to business. Mr. T. J. Smith, in a neat little speech, resigned his position as chairman and a member of the committee.
His excuse was that he is a prospective candidate, therefore his resignation was accepted. It was then moved that Dr.
B. N. Patterson be made chairman.

He declined, on account of his residence being out of Hartford, where he thought the chairman should reside, but acted as temporary chairman. Mr. Smith recommended Mr. J. W. Ford as a member of the committee, he being unanimously elected. J. T. Jackson then as proxy offered Dr. S. A. Jackson's resignation, and recommended Mr. M. J. Reid, of Rockport. The vote was taken and Mr. Reid elected. Mr.
Clarence Hardwick then handed in his resignation on account of his being a prospective candidate and recommended Dr. A. B. Baird, of Hartford, in his stead. Dr. Baird was accepted. The committee then took a recess until Dr.
Baird and Mr. Ford could be summoned. After recess the meeting was called to order, and Dr. B. N. Patterson was made permanent chairman, and Dr. A. B. Baird secretary. It was moved and seconded that the committee meet the first Monday in next month to set the time for primary convention. It is urgent that the committee should all be present.

The members of the committee now are Dr. B. N. Patterson, chairman, Cromwell; Dr. A. B. Baird, secretary, Hartford; Dr. N. J. Rains, Rosine; D. W. Coppage, Fordville; M. J.
Reid, Rockport; Jno. E. Magan, Buford; J. W. Ford, Hartford.

STATE NEWS.

A child of a Mr. Baldwin, near Hin-kleville, Ballard county, died from eating wild grapes.

Albert Wright, a Lexington barter, has been sentenced to the penitentiary for two years for forging an order for 35 cents.

A subscription is being taken up at Central City and vicinity for the purpose of building a Catholic Church at that place.

Lieutenant Henry Allen, whose recent daring adventures in Alaska, which have suddenly made him famous, is a native of Owensville, Ky.

The Henderson Bridge Company has asked the New York Stock Exchange to list $1,000,000 stock and $2,000,000 of its six per cent. first mortgage bonds.

Rev. Daniel S. Colgan, of Owensboro, who enjoyed the distinction of being the oldest Baptist minister in the State, died of cancer Saturday evening, aged eighty-two.

The appropriation of $100,000 for the public building at Frankfort has about all been expended. Further work on it will have to be suspended until an other appropriation is made.

John Jeffries, the supposed murderer of Marion Hunter, was arrested in Evansville last week, and taken to Calhoun and lodged in jail. Jeffries says he can prove his innocence.

The store house of J. A. Hendricks, Bremen, Muhlenberg county, was robbed of $140 last Saturday night. No clue to the burglar, but it must have been some person well acquainted with the surroundings.

A three-card monte man, who has been visiting south-western Kentucky, struck the wrong town when he found himself in Hopkinsville. He was caught in his little trick and "ban-guishes in duance vile."

A great supply of natural gas has indicated its presence for many years at Brandenburg, Ky., forty miles below Louisville on the Ohio river. The only use made of it has been to run the salt works at that place. Recently a company has bought the property for $100,000, with the purpose of conveying the gas by pipes to Louisville and New Albany, for the purpose of illumination.

The former belies of Bowling Green, who have married within the last few years, are having hard luck with their husbands. For instance, Mr. Charlie Moore was given the grand bounce by his wife on account of general worth-lessness. Next came Mr. Richard Nicol, whose absence was requested by both his wife and father-in-law. Last, but not least, came Mr. Jas. Spiller's hasty departure from the muzzle of his father-in-law's pistol, last week. He was requested to leave the country and never return. But, still the marriages in Bowling Green do not cease.

The South Kentuckian, of Hopkinsville, says: Col. J. M. Dodd, of this county, has bought the outfit of the late Calhoun Courier, and will start a paper at Calhoun about the first of January.
Col. Dodd is an old newspaper man.
He edited the Conservative in this city changed it to the Democrat. He was not, as has been stated, the founder of this paper, though it was first printed with the material of the suspended Democrat, purchased from Col. Dodd.
The people of Calhoun and McLean counties will find that Col. Dodd will give them a paper worthy of their support.

Haysville Happenings.

October 27th, 1885.

Editor Herald:
Your correspondent is back from Davies county and the reunion at the fair grounds near Owensboro, but before giving you any notes on the reunion I wish to state that the merchant at this place, Mr. J. H. Black, is doing a land-office business, selling at cost, and winning custom by polite attention.

Alex. Hill, proprietor of Walnut Grove stock farm, has built a splendid stable and crib, purchased additional fine stock, and, indeed, is now in the front rank of stockmen. Eldred G.
Field is Mr. Hill's excellent superintendent.

C. Moseley has a large number of young mules, one of which got badly hurt last week. Mr. Moseley desires to purchase 40 yearling mules, and farmers in this county having any for sale will consult their interests by calling on him.

The reunion was a grand success.
Sergt. J. L. Harder (now Eq.) has not forgotten the drill, and he and his companions showed off finely in the procession.

An Old Garter.

"Uncle" Neddy Hughes, says our Madisonville reporter, whom everyone hereabouts knows and esteems, was in town on Thursday last, wearing the coat in which he was married forty-six years ago.

No boasts the Franklin Favorite. But let us tell you about a coat, something on the order of a Prince Albert, dark in color, and does not look threadbare, but is somewhat faded. The coat we speak of adorns the back of one of the handsomest and best men in Southern Kentucky. It is worn in Hartford, and can be seen almost any day. This coat antecedes Mr. Hughes' considerably, and has been worn almost every day since it was made. For instance, an old gentleman came to Hartford the other day and saw this man with the ancient coat on. He said, "Well, I know that coat, but I don't know the man. I can remember forty or fifty years ago, when that very coat was considered one of the finest things in this country." Some one then told the old gentleman the owner's name. He said, "Well, I declare, if that ain't my old friend's son, Prof. —!" The crowd fell back for the two men, and there was a rush and a hearty squeeze of hands. We never knew before that Prof. —'s great grandfather had worn that coat. We asked for a history of the coat, but it was too lengthy to publish.

A New Coinage.

As it appears that the silver coinage question will undoubtedly come before the next Congress, I will venture to give my views on that subject. The principal objections that are urged against the present silver coinage are its weight in transportation and room it requires in storage. These defects I think might easily be remedied by a mixed coinage of gold and silver. Let the relative value between the two metals be first ascertained. We will assume that eighteen parts of silver is equal to one part in gold, then make a mixture or amalgam of eighteen parts of silver and two parts of gold in weight, which, when coined, would make fifty-four dollars in value, thus reducing the weight of the present dollar to one-third of its original weight, which would afford a currency sufficiently light to be carried conveniently about one's person for all ordinary purposes, for common traveling or business transactions, and sufficiently reduced in bulk to be capable of convenient storage in treasury vaults, bank safes, etc.

It is supposed that this portion of gold mixed with silver would produce a coin easily distinguished from pure silver coin, but admitting that its color and size might be deceptive and cause its passage for silver coin of a relative size. I would suggest that this amalgam or mixture be coined into dollars—five dollars and ten dollars of hexagon shape. The quality of a hexagon is that they might be conveniently placed together without any vacancy between them, thus fitting closely and compactly without the pressure or abrasion that would result from round coin. Thus, it could be coined, put up, stamped and labeled at the mint in boxes of one hundred, five hundred and one thousand dollars, and counted out at the treasury banks, &c., with almost the same facility as bank notes of that denomination, and without breakage of packages.

With the adoption of this coinage it would seem advisable to suspend the coinage of all silver above half dollars and of all gold less than twenty dollar pieces.

I have passed through the old currency system of 1812, the flood of independent banks, which followed immediately afterwards, the old Commonwealth bank of Kentucky, the conflict of old Nick Biddle and his U. S. bank with the State and Independent banks of his day, and our present system of banking and coinage, but I can think of no better system of coinage than the mixed coinage recommended above.
I make this communication to the public for whatever it may be worth.

Editor Herald:

Yesterday, the first day of November, came in blustery and threatening.
Overcoats and good fires are in demand now.

Shull Bros. have moved in their new store. They look real cozy. I reckon they will christen it "Blue Front."

The partnership heretofore existing between Jones & Smith has been dissolved. Mr. Jones having sold his interest to Mr. Smith.

Trade has been unusually brisk for several weeks. The large stock purchased by W. P. Rowe & Son has been so much depleted as to require another purchase in a short time.

Ford Bros. have rigged the steam thrasher engine in their shop, and propose to grind corn during the winter season. To have heard the two mills whisking at the same time a few economies ago would have made you think you was some where.

Mr. Kelley, whose case I have mentioned several times before, died at 2 1/2 o'clock, Saturday the 30th inst., the condition of his leg being such that amputation became indispensable. Dr. C.
W. Layton, of Rockport, was called and amputated the leg. He died that evening.

Rev. J. C. Brandon filled his appointment here last night.

Aunt Betsey Lucas, of Calhoun, was visiting among her many friends and relatives here last week.

Mrs. Wm. Melton, of Island, is visiting at Jacob C. Warden's.

W. B. Tichenor and wife called to see Mrs. Tichenor's father's family, W. C.
Wade, one-day last week.

Miss Maggie Moore, of Indiana, is visiting her cousin, Spurling Moore, in town this week.

R. G. McAdams has gone to Nashville to make his future home. His family will go in a short time.

Jas. Hatcher and wife are visiting relatives in Rockport vicinity.

R. P. Rowe and wife, of Island, came over Saturday on a visit to their family.

From Uncle Geo. Rowe, just from Spring Lake, I learn that business in that place was never more lively than now. Every thing more or less booming. Special mention was made of the Rowe boys, who went there from this town soon after the opening of the railroad through that country and had much to do in building up the town. Enos Rowe, who has been so long in the timber business, has become quite an expert, and is now actively engaged in buying and selling spokes and is doing well. A. G. Rowe & Bros., after 12 or 14 years of very successful mercantile business, suspended in order to wind up their outstanding business and Fonzo will in a short time engage in the goods business at Big City. Martin is managing a profitable thing out of the tan-bark and hoop-pole trade, while Cortez, a third brother, owns a half interest in a good flouring and saw mill, and is his own miller.

Schoolboy's Come-Back.

Cromwell, Ky., Oct. 29, 1885.

Editor Herald:

A reply to the Snags is almost unnecessary, as he makes not a single argument to disprove the history brought up in my last communication, but falls back upon ridicule and imagination, which form so great a part of his writings.

It would be useless for me to bring more proof to establish my position, for the gentleman does not attempt to refute what has already been introduced.
However, as he vainly attempts to set Goodrich aside, I will say that the quotation from that author regarding the main points agree with the accounts given by Ridpath and Frost.

The gentleman speaks of "the traditional old school-house." It is true that our schools and school-houses are not what they should be, but they are in regular succession from Jamestown, and Snags ought to be the last to make light of them. His pen picture of Schoolboy is in impressive indeed; it tends to make the impression that he is never without a supply of gas, if his arguments are running short.

Snags should never speak of "garbling statements" to others while it is a fact that he picked and copied a large portion of his "Jintown" articles from a letter of Judge Black, published in the Courier-Journal in 1880.

The gentleman tries to enlist public opinion against me it seems by asserting that "there is scarcely a ten-year-old boy in the land who does not know and feel that Schoolboy deserves the scorn of an intelligent public," etc.
His heart must be failing him, or else his Virginia chivalry is on the wane.

If my Democratic friends, and I am glad to say they are many, were of the Snags type, I should not doubt he could easily, not for any "despicable attempt," for I made none, but because we differ politically, and Snags, though he claims Jeffersonian Democracy, free speech and all that likes to heat but one side; but due allowance can be made for him as he is either an entirely new specie or the last representative of one that is now fossilizing. SCHOOLBOY.

Take your beef hides and sheep pelts to the Red Front.

Hartford was full of people Monday, attending county court.

Best powder, shot, caps, paper and metal shells, wads, loads, &c., at Williams Bros.

Red Front pays more for country produce than any house in Hartford. Give it a trial.

Mr. Tom Davis has taken the contract to finish painting the court house. He began Monday.

Anderson's Bazaar has a lot of Walker's shoes on the way from the factory. They will arrive Friday.

If you want a heating or cooking stove go to Williams Bros. We make a specialty of grates and fire brick.

The cheap clocks at Anderson's Bazaar are going fast, and those needing waste ought not to delay seeing them.

For staple and fancy groceries call at Williams Bros., and get prices and examine quality before purchasing elsewhere.

The first quarterly meeting of the M. E. Church South, for the Hartford circuit, will be held at Mount Vernon church November 7th and 8th 1885.

The Owensboro papers speak very complimentary of Capt. Sam E. Hill's address at the reunion and were very sorry that they could not get it for publication.

We have purchased the finest and best organ that ever was seen in Ohio county, for our next grand Gift Distribution, which will come off about Christmas.

The protracted meeting at Bethel Church, conducted by Rev. P. A. Edwards, closed on Tuesday last week, with 55 conversions and 44 additions to the church.

Mr. G. W. Gibson, Vice President of the Dow Wire Works Company of Louisville, is in town with several useful patents. They are something every farmer wants. Address him here or at Louisville.

All the waiters, cooks and help of all kinds quit the Hartford House Saturday night, without giving the proprietors any previous notice. Sunday morning breakfast was on time and better than usual. Mr. Miller is a hustler.

The finest Alternative and Anti-Billious medicine on earth is Samaritan Nerve. $1.50. "The doctors said my child must die with spasms. Samaritan Nerve cured him." Wm. E. Tanner, Dayton, Ohio. $1.50, at Drug-gists.

Anderson's Bazaar is manufacturing a lot of those nice comforts, such as gave such perfect satisfaction during the cold season of last winter. Go to the Bazaar, select your prints and batting, and have your comforts made just to suit you.

We have lately purchased a lot of new type, for the execution of fine job work and for the improvement of the looks of the HERALD. We now have one of the finest and most complete printing establishments, in every detail, in Western Kentucky.

Henry Pace, the Hartford barber, has moved from Business Row to his new shop on Market street next door to the Red Front. He is fixed up more cozy than ever, can give his customers better attention, and it is a much more agreeable place.

Please bear in mind that Anderson's Bazaar is the only place where you can get Starks' boots, Stevens' shoes, "wear-for-ever-school shoes" and Emmons' mens calf shoes for fashionable young men. The above are without doubt the best goods made in America to-day.

Last Friday was the banner day for the merchants of Hartford. They did a larger business than on any preceding day this fall. Market street was so full of wagons that it was difficult to pass. The merchants attribute the immense trade to their liberal advertising in the HERALD last week.

We want it distinctly understood that we are not doing a credit business. Subscriptions, job work, advertising, announcements of candidates &c. must be paid for in cash to insure the work. The credit system has well nigh ruined us, and we will have to adhere to the cash system or close up.

We propose to have another grand Gift Distribution about Christmas, and will have a store of useful and ornamental articles to distribute to our subscribers. We think of having it either on Christmas or New Year's day. We offer extra inducements to new subscribers and to all old subscribers as well, so do not delay.

Some little boys were down in the bottoms across Rough creek Saturday, and in wandering around they came across a curious looking bird. One of them threw a hickory-nut at it, and fortunately hit it. They secured the bird, brought it to town, and contributed it to Williams Bros.' zoological garden. The bird proved to be a young heron, brown in color.

"Major Hofsord," of Jackson, Tenn., arrived Monday evening, and for the present is stopping at Henry D. McHenry's. He was much fatigued from his trip, and after he had taken a bath and eaten his supper he was much refreshed and was very entertaining. The Major is of an aristocratic family. His forefathers are from the beautiful Isle of Malta, and he is therefore a Maltese of beautiful color and about 24 lbs in weight. He is the gift of Major E. S. Hofsord.

Judge Benjamin Newton is announced in this issue a candidate for County Judge. He has served the county eleven years as Magistrate, and four years as County Judge and has always discharged the duties devolving upon him faithfully and promptly. He is a sober, honest, upright citizen and is well qualified for the position and worthy of the confidence of the people.

Hon. E. C. Hubbard, of Hartford, delivered a ringing speech at the soldiers' reunion at Owensboro, in the course of which he often waxed eloquent. The speech elicited much highly complimentary remark, both at the time and since, and an effort to obtain this, as well as the other addresses delivered on the occasion was made but proved futile. —Owensboro Inquirer

The meeting at Bell's Run was a grand success; forty-five additions, Dr. Coleman immersed thirty-six candidates in Panther Creek last Sunday, in the presence of an immense concourse of people. He was assisted through the entire series of meetings by Rev. E. H. Maddox, who rendered him valuable aid. Next Sunday Dr. Coleman will begin a series of meetings in Whitesville, assisted by Dr. Noel, of Morgantown, Ky.

Mr. Alfred C. Phillips is this week announced as a candidate for Jailor. He is a sober, moral, honest man, a good Democrat, has been a voter and hard worker for the party since 1852, has never asked for any other office but this and never expects to. We do not hesitate to say that if elected he can be relied on to discharge his whole duty. His claims deserve the consideration of the Democratic voters of the county.

We are greatly indebted to Mr. W. H. Williams, of the Red Front, for his courtesy and the pleasure of a visit to Calhoun, our childhood home. Nothing could have given us more pleasure than the warm hand-clasp and kindly greeting from dear friends we had not seen for years. What a radical change time has wrought in a few short years. Many, very many, have crossed the river, whose dark waters are now laying at our feet, to the House Beautiful, and their dear faces and names are fast becoming misty on the store walls of memory, but many pleasant and sacred memories of the dear old home cluster round still.

The Check System.
The case of Ivey vs. the Central Coal and Iron Company, or, as Mr. Hubbard, the plaintiff's attorney, styled it, capital vs. labor, was tried in Quarterly Court last week, before a jury. The case had gained some notoriety, and quite a crowd assembled to hear it argued. The defendants as well as several other coal operators have a check system or a short method of book-keeping, which is very convenient and satisfactory to both parties. But, it seems that such men as Ivey object to it. He rather does not object to it as the case showed, but wanted something for nothing. The company failed to pay off one month, and in the meantime Mr. Ivey drew about $65 in checks and did something like $55 worth of work—at any rate, when the Company did pay off, Ivey owed them $8.25. When they came to his name $8.25, he wanted money for the full amount of work done. He did not want to allow the Company anything for the checks he drew and spent for provisions, beer, for his family, but principally for beer. As a matter of course, the Company would not agree to any such thing. He then concluded to sue the Company for the full amount of labor. The case came up before Esquire Byers and he gave Ivey a judgment. It was then appealed and the defendants got judgment against Ivey for $8.25.

Burglary at Cromwell.
Burglars broke into the store of A. K. Leach, at Cromwell, last Monday night. It is supposed that they had a key and got in at one of the doors. They bored a hole in the safe and blew it open, but happily there was but little money in it. Mr. Pat H. Brown had some old silver and gold coins which they got. They got some $8 to $10 out of the cash drawer in the store. The post-office is kept in the store, and they went thro' it, tearing open a any letters, but got nothing except about $5, which they took out of the drawer. There is no clue to the affair—no person is suspected. They were evidently experts. Two men were seen on the road between Beaver Dam and Cromwell after dark, going in the direction of Cromwell. They were walking, and are supposed to be the ones who broke into the store. It is supposed that the burglary was committed about three o'clock Tuesday morning.

The Bestoffer of all.
We will send the HERALD to new subscribers from now on from date they subscribe, to the end of 1886, and the American Home for the same time, for $1.50, and give them a chance in our Grand Gift Distribution besides. Old subscribers who are in arrears can pay arrears to time of payment and receive the same as new subscribers. The HERALD is your local paper and should be in every family in the county. The American Home is a monthly paper edited by Rev. T. E. Richey, at Princeton, Ky., and is devoted to temperance, morality, literature and general news.

We send you the HERALD 14 months, worth $1.75, the American Home 14 months, worth 60 cents, total $2.35, all for $1.50 and a chance in a Grand Gift Distribution, besides in which you will have a chance for a premium worth 25 cents up to $150. Do not delay, but subscribe or renew at once, as each week's delay shortens the time you will receive the paper.

West Kentucky College, South Carrollton, Kentucky.
The attendance this term is much better than at any time during the last two years. Board, furnished rooms, fuel and lights, in the best private families of the place, positively charged more. Tuition, ten dollars per term of ten weeks. Where can you do as well? Second term begins November 9th, 1885.

Arrested on Suspicion.

Some two weeks since, Mr. Taylor Samuel, of near Bardonia, lost a very fine mule, valued at $300. Also, on the same night, John Wright, a young man who had been working for Mr. Samuel, disappeared. His home is at Fordville, and the authorities were put on the look-out for him. Sunday morning he made his appearance, but on foot. He spent the day at his father's and that night he thought he was watched, so he skipped out under the cover of darkness, and was pursued four miles in the country, where he was found in his uncle's hay loft, about 2 A. M. Monday. The arrest was made by Messrs. D. W. Coppage, S. C. Roberts and Esquire J. I. Harler. Messrs. Coppage and Roberts brought the prisoner to town Monday night. After they had supper and given the boy plenty of opportunities to get away, they turned him over to the Sheriff. In a very few minutes Sheriff Hocker and Deputy Sheriff Loney were on their way to Nelson county with the prisoner. Young Wright is not more than nineteen years old, and has rather a good countenance.

Bather Suspicious.

Beaver Dam was startled Sunday morning when it was made known that Mr. Robert Stone and Mrs. Sam Anderson were both missing. Mrs. Anderson is the wife of Stone's half brother. It is not known that they left together, but it is supposed so, as it is very singular that they should both be missing at the same time. Mrs. Anderson is a beautiful lady of about twenty summers, while Mr. Stone is thirty-five, married and has a house full of children. Two hearth-sides vacant, two families ruined, all on account of man's perfidy and woman's inconstancy.

We have also learned since the above was written that Mr. W. L. Harris was missing from the same place on the night above mentioned.

Notice to Tax Payers.

The year will soon close and with it the business of the year must close. You know that I am bound under oath and bound to meet the obligations of the county and cannot do it unless you pay your taxes. I have done all that I could to accommodate you in the collection of the revenue. I have visited every voting place and postoffice in the county either in person or by deputy, to collect your taxes, and still a great amount is unpaid. You will now be visited at your homes and you must have the money when we come. At the same time my office will be open at all times where you can get your receipt. I am compelled to raise large amounts of money between this and the first of December and hard times will not excuse me. So fellow citizens you must pay, and that at once.

Yours Respectfully,
R. P. HOCKER, S. O. C.

MARRIAGES.

BARNES-BROWN.—At the residence of the bride's father, Mr. J. B. Brown, by the Rev. J. C. Brandon, Mr. J. E. Barnes to Miss Mary J. Brown. Immediately after the ceremony was performed they left for the groom's father's Mr. D. C. Barnes, accompanied by Mr. John Barnes and Miss Hester Baskett, where a few select friends and relatives had assembled to greet them and share the elegant reception which was tendered them. The bride possesses all those lovely traits which are so much admired in a true lady and the groom is a young man of sterling integrity and industrious habits. May Heavens richest blessings constantly descend on their consummate union as along life journey they plod. J. B.

DIED.—On the 28th ult., after a painful illness of two weeks, at his home, Mr. J. B. Williams, Dr. Layton attending. Mr. Williams was born and raised in this county, and was sixty-five years old. He moved here in 1871. He leaves a wife and seven children, all of whom are grown.
Miss Beulah Marrow has returned to Russellville.

Dr. Jackson has a field of corn on the river just above town which yielded 50 bushels per acre.

The Knights of Labor met here Friday night, M. E. Cooper presiding. Several members of the order from Central City and McHenry were present. The object of the meeting was to effect a permanent organization at this place. Mr. Cooper returns many thanks for kindnesses shown them. Our good wishes are with them.

Mr. Stephen Williams' favorite hound strayed from home last week and came to Rockport. In a tour of the town his dogship happened out on the bridge at train time and collided with the cow-catcher. He was a fine dog, your honor, but after the collision he was about the deadest dog you ever saw.

About two weeks ago Mr. Garrison Kelly, of Centertown, a very respectable shoe-maker, was standing near the moving carriage of the saw-mill of that place, which ran over and crushed his left leg. A few days ago gangrene set in and amputation became necessary. Dr. Layton went down Saturday and cut the limb off just above the knee. Dr. Layton reports him in a very critical condition, as there is great danger of blood poisoning. Dr. Sanders assisted in the operation. LATER—he has since died.

The fall rains and continued warm weather are invaluable to the people in general and farmers in particular. Stock now will go into a probably mild winter in excellent condition; scarcity of feed will make the farmers careful in feeding. We are certain to have plenty of floating water upon which to market the vast amount of timber on the river. Then will come an early spring. With a large delivery of tobacco, at reasonably good prices, and the people will find themselves in as good "fix" as they were last spring, with a good crop year before them.

Mr. John Scott, of Virginia, gives an amusing reminiscence of the late war, which may be worthy of reprint: When Gen. Early started on his march to Maryland, in July, 1864, Col. Mosby, to co-operate with Early's marching army, struck the enemy's line of communication between Washington and Harper's Ferry, captured a camp and plundered a dry goods house at Point of Rock, on the Potomac. They then re-crossed the river, bedecked in a very grotesque and original manner. As they passed along the road, some wearing bonnets all arrayed in crinoline and disguised with some incongruous and fantastic article of apparel, they looked like a company of masqueraders. Mrs. Dawson, who was in her garden as she beheld the terrifying procession nearing her house, was seized with consternation, and rushing to the house, exclaimed: "Run, my children, run for your lives! They are coming, they are coming! They ain't Yank's 'n' they ain't Reb's! They ain't Rebels. Oh, they will scalp us, they will scalp us!" SCOGS.

DIED.—James Ford, a young man aged about 26 years, of the Rosine neighborhood, died last Sunday morning.

SINCLAIR.—Wm. Sinclair, a young man of the Rosine precinct, and a son of Marion Sinclair, died on last Wednesday.

MURKILL.—At La Crosse, La., October 30th 1885, of dropsy, Guy Murkell, son of W. H. and Mattie Murkell, aged 4 years, 10 months and 12 days.

DANIEL.—Mr. Walker Daniel, one of the oldest citizens of the county, died at his home in the eastern part of the county, on Tuesday, October 27th, 1885. He was born June 16th, 1803, and was 82 years of age. He was an honest, man, and leaves not an enemy behind Peace to his memory.

CONDUCT.—At the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Dr. E. V. Condit, at Central City, October 30th, 1885, Mrs. Elizabeth Condit, wife of Mr. Condit, died in the 69th year of her age, and was the mother of our fellow-townsmen, Mr. F. E. Kimbley. She was first taken with remitting fever, from that erysipelas broke out—first on her head—and took a downward course until her entire body was covered. She died in the greatest agony from suffocation, the phlegm accumulating in her throat and she was too weak to throw it off. Her funeral was preached Saturday, at Equality, by Rev. J. C. Brandon, and her remains were interred in the family lot at Equality Cemetery.

DANIEL.—Another old resident of Ohio county, Ky., is numbered no longer with the living. Uncle Walker Daniel died October 27th, 1885. He was born June 16th, 1803, and was married to Miss Minnie Smith, August 25th, 1825. February, 1829, he experienced a "hope that maketh not ashamed," and joined the Baptist church, in which he lived till the time of his death. The last few years of his life he suffered intensely, but commanded great patience and fortitude. At last when his frail nature sank beneath the burden, he resigned his spirit to the Lord Jesus, and died the death of the righteous. He leaves a wife and four children to mourn his loss, while four are rejoicing with him in the New Jerusalem. He has thirty-four grand-children and nine great-grand-children. His remains were interred in the Smith grave yard.
